

LBG Career Center

Syllabus

Event	Expert Talk Career Paths with a PhD – Teach for Austria
Speaker	Elisa Priglinger, PhD
PM	Christine Hudetz
Time	June 14, 4 – 5:30 PM
Place	Zoom
Language	English

What career path leads a PhD to work in kindergarten? Elisa is a trained Egyptologist and archaeologist. She worked academically in this field for many years until she decided to take a completely different path in the course of a post doc position. Since 2021 Elisa is working as a Teach for Austria Fellow in a municipal kindergarten in Vienna. In the near future, the next major professional step is coming up.

Learn more about Elisa's individual career path – what motivated her to make this decision, what did she learn during her time as a Teach for Austria Fellow and how is she preparing for the next steps in her career? Join our Career Talk on June 14!

Teach For Austria was founded in 2011. Since then, the organisation has been campaigning for educational justice and pursuing its vision: 2050: Every child has the chance of a good life - no matter how much money or education their parents have.

Agenda

WHEN	WHAT	WHO
16:00 – 16:05	Introduction & Welcome	Christine Hudetz
16:05 – 17:00	Career Path from University to Kindergarten & beyond	Elisa Priglinger
17:00 – 17:30	Discussion and questions	Interactive discussion

Speaker

Elisa Priglinger, PhD
Teach for Austria Fellow

Contact: elisa.priglinger.2021@teachforaustria.at

Profile

- Since 2021 Teach for Austria Fellow in a municipal kindergarten in Vienna
- 2017 – 2019 Postdoctoral Researcher at ÖAW – Institute for Oriental and European Archaeology
- 2013 – 2016 Doctoral fellowship holder at the Austrian Academy of Sciences (DOC Fellowship)
Employed with an independent research project at the Commission for Egypt and the Levant
- 2011 – 2017 PhD in Egyptology, University of Vienna